

Be featured in ChicagoHOME Magazine!

HARRINGTON
COLLEGE OF DESIGN

Elements of Surprise Competition

ChicagoHOME will select five Harrington students to feature in their Elements of Surprise section.

The section features designer ideas on what to do with salvaged or recycled items.

See past examples on the Student Portal!

What would you do with eight (and only eight) of these galvanized-steel parts bins salvaged from a Caterpillar tractor factory in Ohio?

Each bin is 8.5 inches wide and 15 inches deep.

They can be used in any room of the house for any purpose and can be incorporated in a larger structure.

Creativity, ingenuity and imagination rule!

Write a 150-word description of what you would create and/or the function they would serve. Writing not important - it's the idea that counts! ChicagoHOME will write and revise the five selected winners to be featured in an upcoming issue.

No sketches or renderings needed for this stage of the competition. ChicagoHOME may ask for one if selected.

Entry Deadline: Thursday, February 1, 2007.
